THREESIXTY JOURNALISM SCHOLARS

Each year, high school seniors who are graduates of a ThreeSixty summer journalism camp compete for the ThreeSixty Scholar award. The winner receives a full-tuition, four-year scholarship to study Communication and Journalism at the University of St. Thomas.

Samantha HoangLong 2017 ThreeSixty Scholar

ThreeSixty Journalism has selected Samantha HoangLong, a Burnsville High School senior, as the 2017 ThreeSixty Scholar.

"The scholarship is more than just a financial benefit. It puts me on a pathway that is the start of an exciting life journey," HoangLong said. "I couldn't be more thankful for ThreeSixty Journalism."

HoangLong joined ThreeSixty in summer 2016 and completed the program's College Essay Boot Camp, Rookie Journalist Camp and News Reporter Academy. She quickly established herself as a committed student eager to learn and practice journalism.

"While attending ThreeSixty Journalism summer camps, I learned the basics of journalism," HoangLong said. "It also reminded me of the need for more multicultural journalists."

One of HoangLong's first pieces with ThreeSixty, "Adding their own flavor: Harding trio gets once-in-a-lifetime chance to display culinary chops in D.C.," was featured in the Sept. 3, 2016, edition of the Pioneer Press.

"Samantha stood out early on," said Miles Trump, ThreeSixty program manager. "Throughout her time with ThreeSixty, she's emerged as a strong writer, communicator and leader among her peers. We're lucky to have her, and so is St. Thomas."

HoangLong also participated in a special ThreeSixty partnership project with Minnesota Public Radio at the 2016 Minnesota State Fair and on ThreeSixty's 2016-17 school-year News Team. She was a National Honor Society member at Burnsville from 2015-17 and active in diversity initiatives.

"I like to think recognizing the diversity in my own community has helped me become a more empathetic, accepting person," she said.

HoangLong views the scholarship as an opportunity to pursue a career she is passionate about.

"At St. Thomas, I will be able to learn, grow and explore," she said. ■

Danielle Wong 2016 ThreeSixty Scholar

Wong has been active in a number of campus clubs and organizations, including Feminist Community and Asian Students in America. During the 2016-17 school year, she reported for TommieMedia, interned at Prodeo Academy and was a video production assistant at St. Thomas. Wong also was awarded the University Advocates for Women and Equity's "Good Sister Award." Wong will intern at Minnesota Public Radio in summer 2017. ■

Deborah Honore 2014 ThreeSixty Scholar

Honore studied journalism and new media in Morocco with Round Earth Media during fall 2016, and she studied the effects of AIDS and apartheid in South Africa with the St. Thomas Theology Department in January 2017. During spring 2017, Honore worked as a video reporter for TommieMedia, plus produced and edited video projects with other young storytellers. ■

Amira Warren-Yearby 2015 ThreeSixty Scholar

Warren-Yearby was the marketing and public relations chair of the St. Thomas Black Empowerment Student Alliance during the 2016-17 school year. She also tutored at ANEW BAM and was a dance instructor with Twin Cities Mobile Jazz at St. Paul Humboldt. During the 2017-18 school year, Warren-Yearby will study film and television at Bond University in Australia in a study abroad program. ■

Simeon Lancaster 2013 ThreeSixty Scholar

Lancaster spent his final semester at St. Thomas as the director of TommieMedia and as a student intern for PBS NewsHour's The Under-Told Stories Project, whose correspondent, Fred de Sam Lazaro, is based at St. Thomas. Lancaster went on a reporting trip to India with The Under-Told Stories Project in January 2017. He is excited about his career prospects. ■
